Weather Discussion:

A few showers are likely across our islands tonight and during Friday. Meanwhile, patches of Saharan dust could reduce visibility and air quality across our area with moderate-haze during Friday…Take the necessary precautions*. A tropical wave is expected to cross the islands over the weekend, bringing a few scattered showers and thunderstorms across St. Vincent and the Grenadines (SVG).

Moderate (20 - 25km/h) breeze across our islands gradually decrease to gentle (~ 15km/h) by Sunday and wind directions vary between northeast and southeast in some locations.

Sea conditions are slight to moderate in open water, with swells ranging 0.5m(1.5ft) to 1.0m(3ft) west of our islands and 1.2m(4ft) to 1.5m(5ft) east of our islands.
