Weather Discussion:

Saharan dust will be across the area for the remainder of the day with a few light showers forecast for tonight. Tuesday and Wednesday are forecast to be mostly hazy with slight chance of a few showers. A shearline will be in the vicinity around Wednesday night into Thursday, producing possibly slightly cooler temperatures, and scattered showers. Saharan dust is expected to reduce around Wednesday night.

Easterly trades at 20km/h-30km/h will move across the island chain, backing to east north east around Wednesday night into Thursday. Seas will be slight to moderate in open waters with swells peaking at 1.0m on the western coasts and 2.0m on the eastern coasts.
